Jolie Is Movin' Out

Less than two months after Angelina Jolie told Us exclusively why she left Billy Bob Thornton, the Oscar-winning actress has just moved out of the $3.8-million-plus Beverly Hills home that the two bought after they got married in May 2000. On September 10 and 11, moving men from NorthStar Moving Corporation loaded clothes, mirrors, chairs, tables, mattresses, a dresser and numerous boxes, including one marked "baby's toys," into two big trucks. Jolie, 27, who hasn't been back to the house since the couple separated in June, was in Greece filming the Tomb Raider sequel while her possessions were being carted away and placed in storage. Thornton, 47, hasn't been back to the home either. He's still living at the Sunset Marquis Hotel and Villas in L.A.

Jolie cleared out the house she shared with Thornton.
